August 17 - depart for Ukraine!

I am rapidly approaching the end of my time here in the states & as I think about the new ministry opportunities & challenges that await me in Ukraine it is both exciting & at times overwhelming! It is comforting to remember that God is my source of wisdom & strength. I don't have to rely on my own resources!

The steering committee for Choose Life, the developing pro-life ministry in Odessa met this past Saturday. Dr. Miriam has continued to provide guidance for this committee & to move things forward in anticipation of establishing a pregnancy care center in the spring of 2014. We hope to have the registration of the organization completed by the end of the summer & have committee members working on the preparation of a presentation & brochure that we can share with churches in Odessa this fall in order to recruit volunteers. Pray for God's blessing on these efforts. I will be spending time with the staff at Life Matters International in Grand Connecting with friends is one of the joys of home ministry. The Luthey's serve in Japan & have been a great encouragement to me. It was a special treat to spend my birthday with them & with some of my family!

Rapids, MI this month & also plan to visit some other pro-life ministries in the area while I am there. Pray that this will be a profitable time of learning & planning.

Thank you for your prayers for the Medical Missions Interface this past week. It was a good time of learning & fellowship as well as interaction with healthcare providers who desire to be involved in missions. I was able to present the work in Ukraine to the group & visit individually with many of them. Pray that they will be sensitive to God's leading regarding how He might desire to use them in missions.

Praise the Lord for 2 new churches that have committed to partner with me financially. This takes care of the deficit in personal support that I had. I am still trusting the Lord to provide some additional monthly support for ministry funds. Let me know if you would like more information about becoming a support partner, or visit the ABWE website: www.abwe.org.

Thank you for partnering with me in prayer!
